

Little Merchant Carrier's Contract

The undersigned acknowledges receipt from the Cortland Standard Printing Company, Inc., Cortland, New York of a list of subscribers who purchase the Cortland Standard and who live on Carrier Route _____, which list of subscribers and paper route is hereby leased to me, and in consideration thereof I agree as follows:

I agree to buy from the Cortland Standard, and the Cortland Standard agrees to sell to me at the wholesale price all the copies of the Cortland Standard daily newspaper that are necessary to supply the subscribers on the paper route leased by me, and to sell the same at the established retail price. All profits are to be retained by me.

I agree to pay regularly and promptly by the close of business on Thursday of each week for all copies of the Cortland Standard purchased by me.

I will deliver the Cortland Standard promptly after publication, and understand that promptly is defined as no later than five o'clock in the evening on weekdays, or four o'clock in the evening on Saturday. Any service errors will be promptly remedied by myself or my representative upon notification of such error by the Circulation Department.

I shall make every effort to increase the number of subscribers on my route and will provide a high level of service to my existing subscribers. I understand that this means active participation in sales promotions, sampling programs, and other efforts presented to me by the Cortland Standard to increase the subscriber base.

I understand that any sales I make on credit are at my own risk, and that I am to provide my own means of conveyance and transportation.

I understand that I am to recruit and train a substitute for my route to act in my stead in the event that I am unable to deliver the route. The expense of paying the substitute will be borne by me.

I shall not sell, transfer, or assign my right to sell and distribute the Cortland Standard on the route herein designated.

I may terminate this contract by giving thirty days written notice to the Circulation Manager, and understand that I may be terminated immediately by the Circulation Department if I violate the terms of this contract. The costs incurred by the Cortland Standard through such a violation may be charged to my account.
